“BE LIKE A ROCKY PROMONTORY AGAINST WHICH THE RESTLESS SURF CONTINUALLY POUNDS; IT STANDS FAST WHILE THE CHURNING SEA IS LULLED TO SLEEP AT ITS FEET. I HEAR YOU SAY, “HOW UNLUCKY THAT THIS SHOULD HAPPEN TO ME!” NOT AT ALL! SAY INSTEAD, “HOW LUCKY THAT I AM NOT BROKEN BY WHAT HAS HAPPENED AND AM NOT AFRAID OF WHAT IS ABOUT TO HAPPEN. THE SAME BLOW MIGHT HAVE STRUCK ANYONE, BUT NOT MANY WOULD HAVE ABSORBED IT WITHOUT CAPITULATION OR COMPLAINT.” DO THE WAVES THAT CRASH UPON YOU PREVENT YOU IN ANY WAY FROM BEING JUST, FORGIVING, MODERATE, DISCERNING, TRUTHFUL, LOYAL, FREE-SPIRITED, AND IN POSSESSION OF ALL THE OTHER NOBLE QUALITIES THAT NATURE WILLS FOR MAN’S WELL-BEING? THE NEXT TIME YOU ARE TEMPTED TO COMPLAIN OF YOUR BAD LUCK, REMEMBER TO APPLY THIS MAXIM: ‘BAD LUCK BORNE NOBLY IS GOOD LUCK.’”

Grade 10 student Teagh Tremain used his impressive calligraphy skills and the words of John Pennal '64 to create an inspirational visual appropriate for these strange times in which we live.

THE HEAD PREFECT'S Reflection

Driving up to campus to move into boarding, a flurry of thoughts came to mind of what the new year would bring. The first person I saw was Mr. Bedard, who greeted students in the boarding houses when they were moving in. A few days later, we ran the new boy orientation day where Mr. Keyes was out at the statue of Andy with the Prefects, greeting new faces as they drove onto campus for the first time as a student. Later that afternoon, Mr. Stewart shared laughs and made the new guys more comfortable by telling jokes and chirping Jack Rankel.

The first day of school came around. I was super tired because my roommates and I barely got any sleep, and Mr. McHenry gave his opening address about what to expect during one of the most unusual years in the history of St. Andrew's College.

Over this year, we have all faced many challenges: a series of lengthy lockdowns, wearing masks, completing the EduSafe screening each morning, and plans that were changing by the day.

However, I found a few personal silver linings that I would like to share. This year taught me to appreciate the little things a little more because I often took them for granted. We were able to play glorified touch football with teammates in September while other schools were not attempting to play sports. We started an intramural bubble sports league while immersed in the two "boarding bubbles" that were front manned by Mr. Ramon. We got to celebrate An Andrean Christmas and the Celtic Concert with the help of amazing faculty and staff members responsible for the final virtual products. We got Quick Bits, which the Broadcast Journalism students created to let the student body know what events were occurring. We turned Cole Hall into an assembly line when only four students were allowed at each table (previous years had up to 12 students). Taking photos with the rest of the Prefects in Memorial Chapel was extra special because it gave us a timeless image that recognizes our hard work for the community.

If you can notice the theme, it is the fact that at St. Andrew's, during one of the most chaotic years in its history, we have been able to put our best foot forward to bring the students some semblance of a normal year. None of these awesome silver linings that I experienced would have been remotely possible if we had faculty members who did the bare minimum. Every staff member goes above and beyond, which allows students the opportunity of a lifetime to attend the most prestigious independent school in all of Canada.

All of the little things make SAC not an ordinary place.

PANDEMIC POVs

Prefects Braeden Donnelly, Eddie Jia, and Nolan Rush were asked to reflect on how they have been staying engaged during the pandemic and how they have seen other students handling the challenges of COVID-19. Here are their thoughts.

It has been a bittersweet year for the grads. The reasons to be bitter may be obvious, but with a little reflection, there is a sweet side.

As Old Boys, the Class of 2021 will be able to repeatedly enjoy An Andrean Christmas, Cadet Inspections, and the Focus Festival produced this year. Whether on campus and distancing or in online learning, there has been a need to film almost every assembly, chapel service, and coffee house; even individual projects have included some form of recording. Our whole year is documented and should become one amazing time capsule for our class. This is something no other grad class gets to have. I'm thankful and truly proud of my classmates for how well we've done with what we've been given this year.

During the fall and before transitioning to online instruction, the ACPlus programs started up as usual but with some mandatory precautions. As a Rock Band club member, I couldn't have imagined a more exciting and engaging environment to be in on Wednesday afternoons. Despite not being allowed a singer in our bands, we rehearsed as normal and even recorded our cover of Sultans of Swing. Our recording was edited, mixed, mastered, and produced into something we can keep forever. The video of our recording is the most 2020 thing ever: six feet apart, masks on, jamming out as a band. I couldn't be more grateful for such a unique experience.

After transitioning online in December, everyone tried to provide a unique, active online experience. Our Wellness team released a new schedule every week with recipes, workouts, and healthy activities. As Prefects, we rebooted the Commit-to-Fit Challenge started by our 2019-2020 counterparts. For First Hockey, we had weekly mental performance sessions with Coach Lucas Madill, which involved mindfulness, mental preparation, and visualization practice. We even had Zoom workouts. I'm still not used to being on camera every day, especially while working out. That being said, an online team activity is better than no team activity. Many other teams at the School are doing similar activities, which helps physically engage everyone.

I am most looking forward to our parade season in Cadets. As the Cadet Commanding Officer, I am incredibly impressed with how engaged and agile our Cadets have been, no matter the circumstances. Whether we run the inspections online, film each company individually, or have live inspections with limited numbers, we will get to see the 142 on parade in the spring in some capacity. The Cadet headquarters got to represent the Corps at our Remembrance Day ceremony and have since run our staff Cadet and Master Cadet courses virtually with little change in curriculum. Hopefully, we will see a loosening of pandemic protocols so our grads can parade one last time in uniform.

We could be bitter about our year, or we could choose to look deeper and realize how sweet this experience has been.

In September 2020, SAC's quiet campus welcomed back its students after six months of silence. Securing safety while maintaining students' physical and mental health, the new Upper School schedule helped normalize an otherwise challenging year.

Since September, the weekly schedule has included Wellness Wednesday, chapel sessions, leadership and band, extracurriculars, and advisory. The remaining weekdays are exclusively for academic periods. This new schedule achieved two goals: limited student traffic to enable social distancing, and provided a mid-week break for boys to engage in the non-academic aspect of school life and stay mentally healthy.

As all of us moved online in December, it was obvious we handled the online learning better than we did last school year. Our teachers had mastered remote teaching skills by making clear expectations, clear communication on multiple platforms (Zoom, OneNote, Microsoft Teams), and a variety of teaching styles. Students have been motivated to keep up with their work and stay engaged. Understanding that students require a lot of concentration for remote learning, many teachers shortened their classroom time and added work periods to ensure a healthy schedule until we returned to in-person classes in February.

As a Prefect, maintaining my academic performance wasn't as difficult as keeping the community engaged; SAC's strict pandemic protocols prevented us from hosting in-person events. While predicting a reduction in students' connection with school and campus, we proposed the year's theme: Seize the Day. We encouraged students to adopt the safety protocols while embracing opportunities to participate and stay positive. We transformed in-person events into innovative online forums.

I was in charge of hosting a paint night for SAC students and girls from Trafalgar Castle School, an all-girls school in Whitby, Ont. We replaced the acrylic painting we had done in past years with digital drawing so everyone could participate from home. We also experimented with changing the task from drawing the same image to drawing different frames of a themed video, which stimulated participants to adopt distinct art styles.

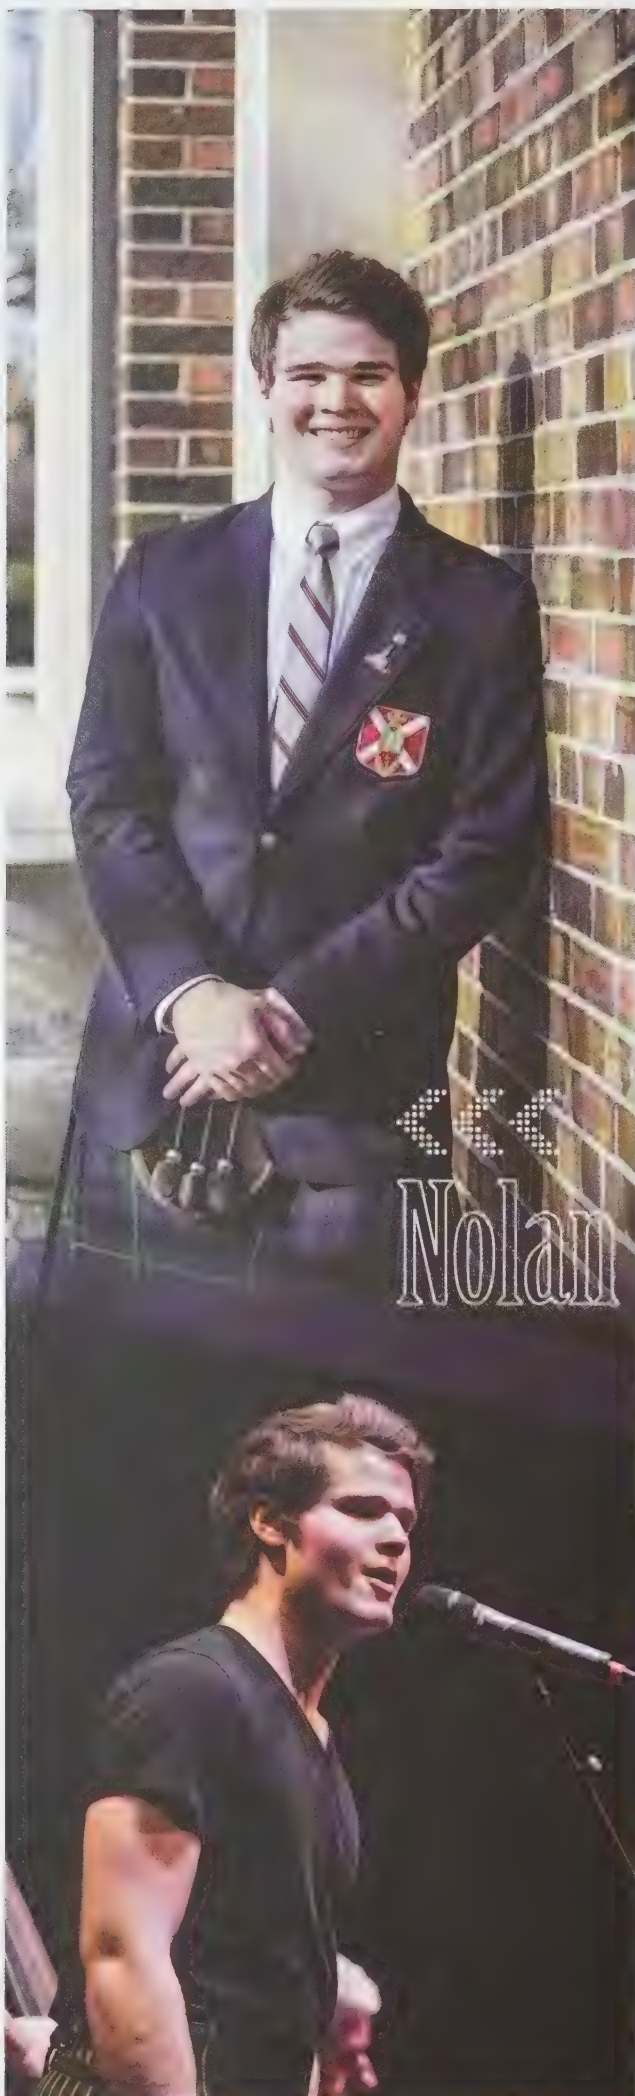

I was nervous about hosting the virtual paint night on Zoom until students started to break the ice and chat about life and art just as they used to do. We compared our school schedules and interests, shared some laughs, and, of course, provided advice on each other's illustrations. With about 60 participants and 120 frames of hand-drawn illustrations, the legacy of paint night continued, as well as the vitality of our community bonds.

The SAC school community has matured this year, and students have adapted to the ever-changing COVID-19 protocols. Everyone at St. Andrew's can't wait to get back to our regular, pre-pandemic lives. But we have proven that, no matter what happens, Andreans are truly resilient.

It has been an interesting journey as I reflect on spending my final year of high school during a global pandemic. I came to St. Andrew's in Grade 9, and I remember the anticipation of being in Grade 12. I couldn't wait: I would play in the First Football game at Homecoming; I would try out for the lead role in my final fall play production; I would sing on the stage with my classmates at An Andrean Christmas; if I became a Prefect, I would hopefully be able to plan the semi-formal dance; I would maybe be a lead in one of the shows at my final Focus Festival of the Arts; and, I could finally go to the Cadet Formal.

But, so far, none of those things I looked forward to has happened in the way I imagined.

Looking back to September, we were still faced with restrictions, but we began the school year in person. After months of being at home on SACFlex, the SAC online learning platform instituted in March 2020, I forgot how much I missed talking with my friends in Staunton Gallery, interacting with teachers in the classroom, and playing sports on Yuill Field.

In December, we returned to online learning. Our teachers made the transition easy and enjoyable, but the in-person connections were lost until we returned to school again in February. The good thing about online learning, though, is that I got to spend more time with my family. The School also did a lot to keep students engaged by continuing virtual chapel gatherings and instituting fun and healthy activities like the Commit-to-Fit Challenge.

One of the biggest hurdles the School faced was taking An Andrean Christmas online. Mr. Scoular, Head of Drama & Film, and all the teachers involved did a great job making it a virtual success. The student performers were amazing, and I am thrilled our final Andrean Christmas will be forever on video.

For SAC TODAY, the news show produced by Broadcast Journalism students, there were few adaptations to be made. It was a bit more difficult to produce the shows from home, but I could count on my parents and siblings for help with filming. Although we haven't had as many reports on typical school events, we have had more time to explore other interests and topics from outside the School. The class this year has set a good example and a high standard for quality content for next year's students.

Participating in Movember was unique this year. As a "Mo Captain" alongside classmates, Liam Taylor and Liam Stevenson, we faced some challenges with student engagement and raising money for the charity. Although we didn't meet our fundraising goal, we were happy with what we raised for men's health. I am sure the School can reach a higher goal next year, and I will be doing my best to help while at university. Once a Mo Bro, always a Mo Bro!

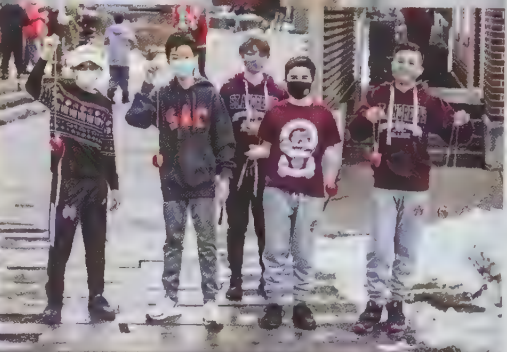

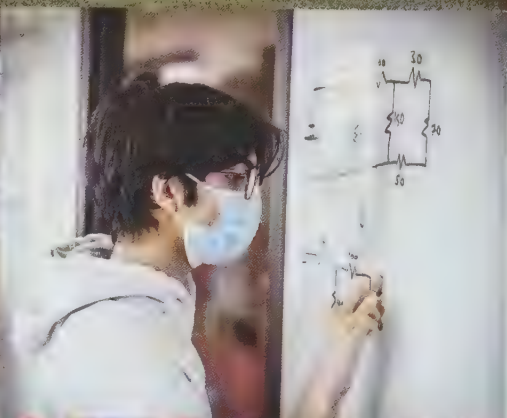

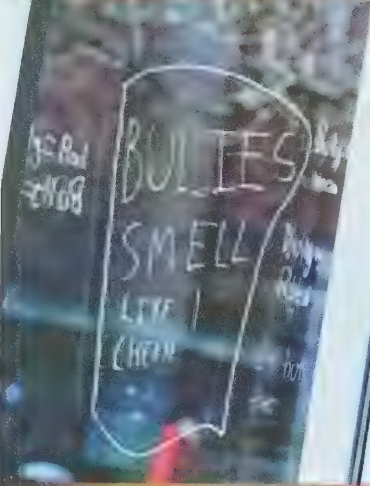

All in all, I'm happy about what we were able to accomplish as a graduating class this year. We still got to enjoy sports, carried on the tradition of An Andrean Christmas, and I am looking forward to the Focus Festival production.

As some of my university acceptances roll in, I am excited for what the future holds and grateful for my time being part of a resilient Andrean community. ✕

Memorable Moments: European Battlefields Tour, Chicago Music Festival, Grade 11 semi-formal, Mr. Carroll's class where we talked about the economic impacts of Genghis Khan's promiscuous activities

General Comments: Thank you to my teachers, coaches, and brothers; you made these past years as memorable and eventful as possible. This year was not ideal, but we made the most of it, and I'm sure we can use the resilience we developed in any other roadblock life throws our way. At least it taught us to wash our hands at least once a week. Thank you, mom and dad, for pushing me to consider this school. I don't know who I would be without it. Rest in peace, five-second rule; it was nice knowing you.

Next Year: University of Guelph for environmental science/saving the turtles

Alex Fan

6 years at SAC / Laidlaw House

Nickname: Fan Man

Famous Saying: "Ignorance is bliss." (I told that to John Hou the day before a test...he failed)

Activities: Wind Ensemble, 1st Badminton, fencing, Japanese Cultural Society,osu!

General Comments: I can't say for sure, but something about this place seems off. It almost seems as though the moment you enter the gates, a melody starts to play within the back of your mind, and the thoughts you have flow toward the future.

Next Year: UCLA for chemistry

Austin Feng

3 years at SAC / Sifton House

Famous Saying: "And now the ACTUAL hard work starts."

Activities: Photography Club, Sr. Cross-Country, fencing

Memorable Moments: Sifton BBQs, house meetings, poker night, An Andrean Christmas

General Comments: Life at SAC is very rich. As an international student, I lived at SAC for three years. It was a good memory. Although I won't be able to attend the graduation with my friends because of COVID-19, regret makes the experience that much more precious.

Next Year: UC Berkeley for data science

Dante Gallo

Activities: Prefect, JV Hockey, 1st Volleyball, sports in general, film enthusiast, Social Justice Council head/member

Memorable Moments: Volleyball and hockey championships, Cadet Inspection, contacting the first BIPOC student at SAC, OFSAA pole vault competitor

General Comments: I'd like to thank everyone who has helped me along this five-year journey. Although it didn't necessarily end the way we wanted it to, I will still hold memories made here for the rest of my life. I'll miss the little things like playing sports on the Quad/turf, pulling up chairs to a single table in the dining hall and having 14+ people sitting at this tiny table, or even the long bus rides to other schools for sports games. I wish this past year and a half had been different and hope it hasn't caused too much strain on anyone in our graduating class; these are some of the most amazing boys I have met and will ever meet. Thank you again to all my friends and everyone I have met along this journey. A special thanks to my parents, all my coaches and teachers throughout the years, and especially Mr. Numa for being an amazing advisor during my four years in the Upper School.

Next Year: Queen's University

Banff Gu

6 years at SAC / Perrier House

Famous Saying: "Perhaps."

Activities: Sr. Cross-Country, swimming, Aerospace Club, Andrean Pep Band, eSports Club, Music SLG, Wind Ensemble

Next Year: University of Toronto for humanities

Quinton Greenfield

3 years at SAC / Flavell House

Nickname: Q

Activities: 1st Lacrosse, JV Hockey

Memorable Moment: First year of MacPherson Hockey Tournament

Next Year: Queen's University

Ali Habib

7 years at SAC / Laidlaw House

Nicknames: Habibi, Alison, Baljeet, Habob, Prince Ali

Famous Sayings: "Beta." "Goodnight, Ali." - Jack Bar "Who Asked?" "Work more." "Tiger."

Activities: Golf team, Entrepreneurship Club (Founder), Real Estate Club (Co-Founder)

Memorable Moments: Taking an Uber on the Cadet trip with Carter and Jake; getting a hole in one and shooting 91; speaking super-fast in law class to make it on LaForge's time; outdriving Andrew Kraik by 20 yards on the first hole at Station Creek Golf Club; going to Shawarma Land

General Comments: SAC was a memorable experience. I will always remember my time here. I got to make amazing friends, and I am looking forward to the reunions.

Next Year: University of Waterloo to study AFM (accounting and financial management) #BillAckman

Liam Hadcock

5 years at SAC / Perrier House

Nickname: Hadco

Famous Saying: "According to all known laws of aviation, there is no way a bee should be able to fly. But they do anyway because bees do not care what people think."

Activities: JV Hockey, JV Soccer, 1st Baseball, Cross-Country Skiing, Cadet Headquarters, Middle School Film Media, Automotive Club, Beyblade Club, Sports Analytics Society, Star Wars Appreciation Club, Rubik's Cube Club

Memorable Moments: Making U16A Hockey only to have to leave for concussions, then spending two years in concussion rehab to come back and finish my SAC hockey career with the JV team. Also, I think I hold the record for most classes ever with Mr. Kimmerer.

General Comments: I had come to SAC thinking I was going to play sports and not much else. I ended up being wrong because SAC is not a place where you can only do just one thing. SAC creates well-rounded men, and by the time my tenure here was done, I became not only an athlete, but an aspiring artist, amateur historian, and a not-half-bad mock trial lawyer. Oh yeah, and tuba. I was bad at that, but at least I tried! SAC gives you the opportunity to be so much more than what you were when you arrived, so take it!

Next Year: Wilfred Laurier University for political science and a law degree from the University of Sussex

Christian Haggith

5 years at SAC / Perrier House

Nickname: Hags

Activities: Varsity B Hockey, JV Soccer, DECA, Community Service Council

Memorable Moments: An Andrean Christmas concerts and Cadet Inspections

General Comments: I would like to thank all the staff and faculty of St. Andrew's, as well as my fellow students, for making the last five years at SAC so memorable. I'm grateful for all the friends I've made and wish the best of luck to everyone in the future. Dileas gu brath.

Next Year: Queen's University for commerce

Lucas Henderson

6 years at SAC / Flavelle House

Nickname: Hendo

Famous Saying: "SATO"

Activities: 1st Lacrosse, 1st Alpine Ski, Flavelle Head of House, Macdonald House Captain, Pipe Corporal, Pipes & Drums Band

Memorable Moments: OFSAA Gold Slalom and Bronze Overall, Harvard Model United Nations, Pennsylvania Lacrosse trips, WAFL

General Comments: My time at St. Andrew's has truly been unforgettable. I came as an immature 7th grader and am leaving as a well-versed Andrean. I enjoyed my time at the College, especially as a member of the Pipes & Drums Band, 1st Lacrosse, and the 1st Alpine Ski team. My time as an Andrean ended in unfortunate circumstances as the coronavirus spread around the world but, nonetheless, an extraordinary experience. Dileas gu brath. "Yesterday is history, tomorrow is a mystery, but today is a gift. That is why it is called present." - Master Oogway

Next Year: Western University

Ryan Henderson

6 years at SAC / Flavelle House

Nickname: Hendo

Activities: 1st Skiing, 1st Lacrosse, Flavelle Assistant Head of House

Memorable Moments: Winning OFSAA in Grade 9, Pennsylvania Lacrosse Trip, Model United Nations, WAFL

General Comments: The past six years are pretty hard to sum up in one paragraph. I had a lot of ups and downs but wouldn't want to experience them anywhere else than at SAC with the group of friends that I had. Coming out of SAC, I've learned valuable lessons like how to do laundry and making my room look clean by hiding all the dirty clothes under my bed. I entered the School as a 12-year-old boy who thought he was on top of the world. I leave as an 18-year-old man ready to choose whether or not he wants to go to breakfast without being gated. I'm so glad I'm on a first-name basis with Mr. LaForge. SATO Jeff. All jokes aside, looking back on six years, there is no place I would rather be than at SAC. I can't wait to donate an on-campus Shawarma Land as an Old Boy. Love the College. Love the boys. Smell ya later.

Next Year: Queen's University for Bachelors of Arts and Science

Ian Hilgendorff

2 years at SAC / Memorial House

Nickname: Hilge

Famous Sayings: "This race is for you, Ms. Bilton!" "It would've gone in on a bigger net." "Oh well, we will get 'em next year."

Activities: 1st Soccer (Captain), Sr. Alpine Skiing (OFSAA champions), Student Head of Memorial House

Memorable Moments: Art Exploration Club, OFSAA ski trip, physics with John, and my first goal for SAC soccer

General Comments: Thank you to my coaches, teachers, classmates, my advisor, Mr. Turley, and everyone in Memorial House for such a memorable two years here at SAC.

Next Year: UBC Vancouver for business and computer science combined major at Sauder

Owen Hollett

5 years at SAC / Ramsey House

Nickname: Buzz

Activities: 1st Volleyball (Captain), 1st Basketball, Co-Head of Andrean Life Council, Master Cadet

Memorable Moment: CAIS Basketball tournament

General Comments: I would like to thank my parents for the opportunity they gave me. SAC has been a very valuable and rewarding experience, and I appreciate all of my years at SAC. Thank you to the teachers and staff for making the School such a rewarding and welcoming place. I would especially like to thank Mr. Commisso for being a great leader and helping me become the person I am today. Good luck to all next year. Lastly, thank you again to my parents for giving me this opportunity and supporting me through it all.

Next Year: Western University for BMOS

Max Houghton

4 years at SAC / Smith House

Famous Sayings: "Why is the camera shaking?" "Yo, Jake or Bill, can you spot me for lunch today? I promise I'll pay you tomorrow." *The next day "Max, where's my money?" "Oh crap, I forgot, tomorrow I promise."

Activities: 1st Alpine Skiing, maybe 1st Tennis (darn it COVID-19), Assistant Head of Smith House, Left Lieutenant, Head Training Officer for Red Star, Guitar Club (good vibes), Rubik's Cube Club

Memorable Moments: Somehow ate a 12-pack of donuts for lunch and proceeded to run in Cadet class after. Grade 10 class with Mr. K watching a video about earthquakes and asked, "Why is the camera shaking?"

General Comments: Thank you guys for such a great four years. From the camp trips to the sports teams to the classes, you guys have been such a great group of friends who have supported, joked, and laughed together. If there was one thing I have learned over these past years, that is never to take anything for granted. Live life to the fullest. Take that opportunity to try new things and never hold back. Thank you, Class of 2021.

General Comments: I arrived at SAC in the midst of dusk, stumbling along, then I find a little light, and more and more, that shines upon me that help recognizes who I am. They were in a line that merges into stars in the distance. I am proud of what I have achieved in terms of academics, which hopefully didn't disappoint my parents and grandparents, who accompanied me closely for 18 years. I want to thank all my teachers for listening and answering all my questions one after another and thank all my peers for their great support and encouragement. 2020-2021 was a tough year, and we went through it all together. Good luck to everyone else on these pages. To whoever is reading this, I wish you grasp your opportunity and try your best in whatever you do with no regret.

General Comments: Trying to muster up even my short four years at SAC from the depths of my insensitivity is quite a task. I can only thank the people of St. Andrew's who have been a part of this unbelievable journey. Dileas gu brath.

Next Year: University of Southern California for computer science

Connor Luciani

7 years at SAC / Ramsey House

Nicknames: Looch, Lil Connie

Famous Saying: "What doesn't kill you makes you stronger."

Activities: Aerospace Club, squash, mountain/road biking, Photography Club

Memorable Moments: An Andrean Christmas, chapel

General Comments: For the last seven years, SAC has been my home away from home, and as I leave, I hope I can take the unforgettable memories with me. Although the pandemic has ruined my last two years at SAC, I am thankful that my parents gave me the opportunity to attend such a great school. It is amazing how time flies. I remember when I was in Grade 6, and I would see Upper School students and think about how long it would be until I was in Grade 12, and now I am here, about to move on to my next chapter in life. The one thing I learned from SAC is to cherish what you have because before you know it, it will be gone.

Next Year: Western University for engineering and an HBA at Ivey Business School as a double major

Gavin Lunau

Memorable Moments: Qualifying for OFSAA Regional Track Metros in the 4x100 relay, being named captain of U16B Basketball, and my entire graduating year

General Comments: I would like to thank all of the staff and students who made my eight years memorable and amazing. I wish my fellow grads the best of luck as well with whatever they are doing and wherever they are going. If I could give any advice to younger students, it would be to enjoy and experience SAC, additionally to slow down sometimes. My eight years have flown by, feeling like months, so you should try to take in every moment SAC has to offer. I would also like to give a special thanks to my parents who made it possible for me to get this opportunity.

Next Year: University of Waterloo for computer engineering

Charles McDonald

Nicknames: Chuck, Cmac, one-touch Chuck

Famous Saying: "Hey, I was wondering."

Activities: JV Soccer, 1st Squash, Cadet Band (1st Flute), marksmanship, Social Justice, Focus Festival of the Arts, cooking

General Comments: I was a little nervous when I first visited the School, music rooms, theatre, football field, and squash courts – but I knew this was the place for me. SAC soon became a new and positive beginning (thanks to Mrs. RD) and just kept on going with positivity and encouragement from my teachers. I embraced our treasured traditions. During my eight years, I participated in many clubs, activities, and sports, but squash was a focus on and off-campus. An Andrean Christmas at Roy Thomson Hall, the St. Andrew's football games (GO SAINTS!), the MacPherson Hockey Tournaments, the plays, and clan competitions were amazing! Mr. Scoular encouraged me out of my comfort zone with multiple Focus plays and one-person shows. The Cadet band was special, as was marksmanship and all the memories made around the School. Thanks to every teacher, coach, and friend for all the support, especially my parents and anybody who stood by me. I will never forget St. Andrew's College and everything it's done to make me the man I am today.

Activities: 1st Volleyball, curling, 1st Badminton, Memorial Student Mentoring Coordinator, House Captain, Community Service Council, SAC Dramatic Society, DECA, SLG, McEwen Business Leadership

Memorable Moments: One of the best experiences of my life was boarding at St. Andrew's College because if I never did, I definitely would not have grown to be as independent and mature over the last three years. While this wasn't the graduating year I had hoped for, St. Andrew's College made the most out of what was within the realm of jurisdiction, and for that, I am grateful.

General Comments: There are times I think how fortunate I am to attend and now graduate at such a school. To COVID-19, you have caused great anguish to me, and thanks to you, I spent the last portion of my high school year at home. Nevertheless, you have made me realize that there is only one world, with one dream: to walk the path toward peace and harmony and only by embracing the ideal of "global unity" can we conquer the insurmountable obstacle. To my parents, thank you for making the financial sacrifice to ensure a better life for me. To my friends, thank you for staying by my side all these years, and cheers! I attribute my success at SAC to the faculty and peers that I've made along the way, and I'd like to wish all my fellow peers the best of luck in their futures. As we continue our journey under the stars, may our paths cross again.

Memorable Moments: The first day in Grade 7, Cornell Model United Nations trip with LaForge and Shrimpton, all the hockey trips (especially Germany), belting O Come, All Ye Faithful at An Andrean Christmas, Mr. Stewart telling me he would get emotional writing my final report card comment, Mr. Jaekel and I trading jabs about $BYND, chasing Ty White down the hall in Grade 8 with a textbook for making puns on my last name, Mr. Stewart singing Fiddler's Green at An Andrean Christmas.

General Comments: Six years is roughly one-third of my life, and those six years I spent at St. Andrew's are by far the most memorable of my life. I learned so much at the School, not only academically but about myself and who I wanted to be. I learned how to be a better person, I learned speaking skills, I learned new passions, I learned what I want to do when I'm older, and I believe I even learned how to format an MLA paper. I found friends and people I would even consider family, as this is what this school has ultimately been at this point, a big family. All the teachers and advisors and staff and students I have interacted with over the last six years have, in some way, shape, or form made St. Andrew's that much better than it already is, and I truly thank you for that. To Mr. Jaekel, thank you for helping me find who I am and who I want to be. To Ms Marshall, thank you for being a lifesaver and an amazing friend to see at Reception in the morning. To Mr. Stewart, you have been so much more of a help to me than you could imagine, and have helped me through astronomical lows and have been there always, and I hope I will see you again in the future at An Andrean Christmas or Old Boy event, thank you so, so much. To all young Andreans, take advantage of every year here as it will pay massive dividends in your future if you use all this amazing school has to offer. To my fellow grads, good luck, thank you, brothers, and I hope I see some of you in the future.

Memorable Moment: Stepping into the boarding house for the first time

General Comments: SAC not only gave me profound knowledge but also taught me the principles of being a human being, allowing me to fly my lofty ideals to an extremely broad new world.

Next Year: University of Toronto

Hiroki Yasui

4 years at SAC / Perrier House

Famous Saying: "I actually don't like thinking. I think people think I like to think a lot. And I don't. I do not like to think at all." - Kanye West.

Activities: Badminton, Sr. Cross-Country, Wind Ensemble (Flute Section Leader), Arts Council

Memorable Moments: An Andrean Christmas, New York trip, Focus Festival of the Arts participation, Kelowna robotics trip

General Comments: I feel like my experiences at SAC have been very varied and have introduced me to activities I would like to continue pursuing in the future. This final year has been tough, but it gave me the resilience to survive in university (hopefully). I've made good memories and good friends and experienced things that couldn't possibly be condensed into this paragraph. Thank you, mom and dad, for supporting me through this four-year journey and best of luck to next year's graduating class.

Next Year: Queen's University for health sciences

GRADE 8 GRADS

Noah Aitoro

Noah has had an amazing time over the past couple of years in the Middle School at SAC and he would like to thank his friends, parents, brothers, and teachers for making it so memorable. Some of his favourite moments include when Mr. Kyle was on recess duty, and the variety of sports they were able to play. He is very grateful to have had the opportunity to attend SAC and is looking forward to the opportunities that the Upper School will bring him.

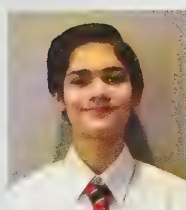

Soham Ajmera

What a great first year at SAC for Soham. He was able to make many friends and enjoy a year of Middle School before starting Upper School. Soham enjoyed every class, but his favourite was definitely English with Mr. Kyle. Even though there were rules because of COVID-19, he still enjoyed many of the sports and Tuesday Arts. He would like to thank every teacher for always helping him when he didn't understand something, and his parents for sending him to this school.

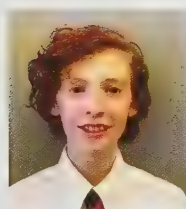

Faris Al-Hinai

Faris thinks we can all agree this year has brought a lot of stress and anxiety, and for the start of his SAC journey, he let it affect his work ethic. Doing SAC/Flex from Maryland was not ideal, and his grades were dropping because of it. But when his legal papers arrived and he got to SAC in person, it flipped his year both socially and academically. He has learned perseverance, integrity, and independence. Although this year has been stressful, he decided he won't let it affect what truly matters in his life.

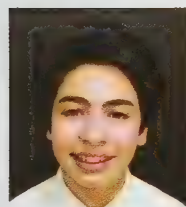

Mateo Alava-Falzone

Mateo loved every bit of SAC, even though there were limitations about what he was able to do. He enjoyed doing things like playing capture the flag and manhunt down in the forest with his classmates and learning about all the amazing things this school has to offer. His teachers helped him a lot to prepare him for what is to come in high school. He also thanks his two astonishing advisors, Mr. MacPherson and Mrs. Ramon, for making it the best first year at SAC they could.

Xavier Baxter

This was Xavier's first year at St. Andrew's. He enjoyed meeting new people and making friends, and also enjoyed the co-curriculars. He had a lot of fun in the LIT program, especially archery and fire building. He hopes to have the same academic marks as he goes to Upper School. One of his favourite memories was when his class went cross-country skiing. He wants to thank his parents for giving him the opportunity to attend SAC. He also wants to send a big thanks to all his teachers for teaching him.

Grey Berman

This was Grey's last year in the Middle School. During his final year, his goals were to have an overall of 90 in academics and be a good Middle School Council member. Mr. Biasi has been a huge inspiration to Grey and many of his friends. He would also like to thank all the other teachers, staff, and parents for this great opportunity. During his Middle School experience, he has been on the Guyship Committee, a Clan Captain, and a member of the Middle School Council.

Ryan Brown

Ryan has been at SAC since Grade 5 and looking back at his time at SAC, he enjoyed going undefeated with the U12 Hockey team and also winning many tournaments with various Middle School teams, such as soccer and lacrosse. Ryan also enjoyed U14 Hockey with Mr. Galajda and Mr. Stewart. Ryan's Grade 8 year has been very "different" from other years. He has not been able to play any of his favourite sports but has tried new ones. Ryan would like to thank his parents for all their help and support.

Owen Cauley

For a few years now, Owen has been going to this school making friends and navigating through school life. This year has been harder than most with online school and preparing for exams, but just like any other school year, you have to plough through it and enjoy it while you can. He says after we get through this rough patch and make it out to the other side, we can have a great summer before going into Grade 9 next year. Owen is excited to start high school along with a new chapter of our lives.

Harrison Chen

Harrison had an amazing experience in the Middle School and would like to thank his teachers and friends for their support and for making it memorable. Boarding was really fun, and he thanks Rodrigo and Cole for basketball after dinner, and Max and Leon for the excited noises while gaming. He thanks his big brothers, Gordie, Lochlan, and Hin, for being there to guide him. He also thanks his advisors, Ms Derwin and Ms O'Hare. "The only impossible journey is the one you never begin." - Anthony Robbins

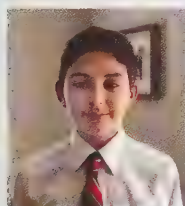

Lucas Chen

Although the circumstances of Lucas's first year were different, he still had a wonderful time at St. Andrew's College. Though he was unable to experience everything that SAC had to offer, he still loved everything that was available. He is proud of his ability to learn new knowledge both in person and virtually. Through the extracurricular activities, he was able to meet many people with shared interests. He enjoyed every minute of it, and he is looking forward to continuing his SAC journey in the Upper School.

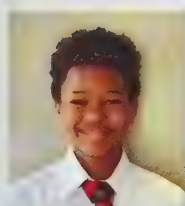

Brandon Chow

The last few years at SAC have been great. Brandon loved the Middle School Band and swimming team. Brandon also enjoyed performing at Roy Thomson Hall with the Middle School Band. Brandon is very thankful for his parents' patience and support, as well as for allowing him to come to this school.

Nicolas Cornacchia

Nicolas had an amazing time in Middle School since Grade 7, and this year was particularly memorable. He is really looking forward to the great opportunities the Upper School has to offer. "Education is not preparation for life; education is life itself." - John Dewey. He will never forget moments like Beyond the Gates, the MacPherson Hockey Tournament, and Homecoming. Nicolas would like to thank all of his friends and classmates for this year.

Jaxon Cover

This was Jaxon's first year at SAC and even though we were in and out of in-person class, his teachers, the Head of School, and advisors did their best to make things as great as possible. The fact that he got to make hotdogs, s'mores, and see how maple syrup was made was incredible. He can't forget about the activities in drama playing the mime game, freeze game, and, his favourite, the boat game. Although he is sad to leave Middle School, Jaxon can't wait for Upper School and what the future holds.

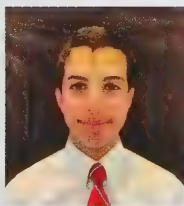

Giulian DeFilippis

Giulian thoroughly enjoyed his first year at St. Andrew's College. He had such a fun time making lots of new friends and taking part in various different sports throughout all three terms. Giulian's best memory is the countless walks back from Willow Farm. The laughter and joy that Giulian and his friends experienced during that time are indescribable. Giulian is looking forward to next year at SAC, when, hopefully, COVID-19 restrictions will be a little less intense.

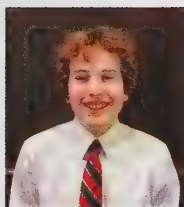

Desi Della Frazia

This year was Desi's first at SAC. Although it was during COVID-19, he can call himself lucky to feel what being a Middle School student at SAC is like. Going to SAC isn't a right, but a privilege that few his age have. He is lucky to be one of those few. This year taught him some lessons that will forever change him as a student and person. He is looking ahead to what the future holds because the best way to give thanks to the people in your life is to work hard every single day and enjoy the memories along the way.

Marcus DeMello

This was Marcus's fourth and final year in the Middle School. He had a lot of fun, but is looking forward to Upper School because it opens doors for his future. One highlight from Middle School was Beyond the Gates. He really enjoyed the activities and fun things everyone did, as well as just staying in his cabin with his friends. His years in Middle School have been great thanks to his parents, who encouraged him all the way through, his teachers, who helped him when he needed it, and his friends, who made school fun.

Beric Dengler

This was Beric's first year at SAC, and even with COVID-19, he was able to experience many activities and clubs, such as the Dungeons and Dragons Club. His favourite memory from this year was winning the Halloween costume contest. Even with COVID-19 making simple things difficult, he still made many friends – and maybe even a few enemies. He had a great time, and he cannot wait until next year.

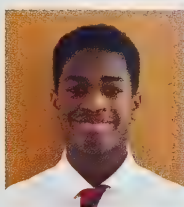

Michael DeSouza

This was Michael's second year at SAC, and he has enjoyed just about every second of it. The first time he visited SAC, he fell in love with the School and he has experienced many good times and lots of great memories. Some of the things he enjoyed the most from his time at SAC were getting to be on the U13 Basketball team and travelling to Montreal, along with making the U13 Soccer team. He would like to thank his amazing teachers for keeping him on track and helping him through his struggles.

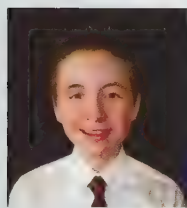

Antoine Destang

Antoine truly enjoyed his time in Middle School, but most of all, he enjoyed his time on the swim team. He would like to thank his advisors for their valuable mentorship, and his parents for the sacrifices they have made for him allowing him to attend SAC. "I want to be able to look back and say, 'I've done everything I can, and I was successful.' I don't want to look back and say I should have done this or that." – Michael Phelps

D'Von Eno

D'Von's first year at SAC has been great. Even though he has not been at the School for very long, he has made a lot of friends in Upper and Middle School. The boarding activities really kept him busy during the lockdowns, the House parents and teachers have always been kind to him, and he feels like he has a real home at SAC. He is happy with his Grade 8 year and can't wait for Upper School to begin. D'Von would like to thank SAC for accepting him into their community.

Ethan Fleming

The Middle School gave Ethan some of his best memories and was a lot of fun. Some highlights of his time here included playing U12 Hockey, U13 Soccer, and learning how to play the trumpet. He is grateful for all his teachers and friends and how they helped him and supported him through his three years here. The Middle School has taught him a lot more than just academics and given him many great friendships and memories. He will miss the Middle School but is excited to begin his Upper School experience at SAC.

Trevor Fullerton

Trevor has enjoyed being at SAC since Grade 5. His favourite trip was Beyond the Gates in Grade 6. He also enjoyed sports like swimming, volleyball, basketball, and badminton. He would like to thank his parents for sending him to this amazing school and giving him many opportunities. He would also like to thank all of his teachers, especially Ms Rose-Donahoe, for helping him through his first year. He is looking forward to exciting new challenges! "Your education is a dress rehearsal for a life that is yours to lead."

Austin Gao

It's been an amazing two years for Austin at SAC. He really enjoyed being around all his friends and being in Mr. Holmes's math class. He went to Montreal playing for the U13 Basketball team and loved the time spent with his teammates. He also loved Media Filming with Mr. Kyle in Tuesday Arts. He would like to thank Mr. Richardson, Mr. Holmes, and Ms Derwin for their mentorship.

Rex Guan

The first day Rex was at SAC, he was very nervous and struggled to get used to the schedule. Over time, he has had many great experiences, such as Beyond the Gates, where he was able to get to know his peers better. Despite COVID-19, he has made many friends and also learned how important it is to stay in contact with peers. Beyond the Gates was an invaluable experience and he hopes that it can resume next year. Thank you for this experience.

Neel Gupta

Neel would like to thank his advisors and teachers for making his two years at SAC memorable. He has enjoyed playing sports, being in band, performing in drama, and being a Clan Captain. One of his earliest memories is jumping into the freezing lake in the early morning on the Beyond the Gates camping trip. He would like to thank his parents for giving him this opportunity. Lastly, Neel wants to give a shoutout to his friends for making him laugh.

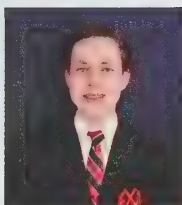

Hank Heider

Some of Hank's favourite memories from the Middle School are playing on the U14 Volleyball team with Mr. Dockerty and Mrs. Elliott, and Beyond the Gates. He hopes to have the same academic success in the Upper School and continue to meet great people. This year he also participated in Leadership in Training and had a lot of fun. He would like to thank all his classmates, his teachers, and his family.

Zhou Hua

This was Zhou's first year as a boarder at SAC. It was a wonderful experience! Even with COVID-19 limiting the activities, the faculty worked so hard to broaden the list. This year, with so much online school, and without people in the class to compete with, Zhou learned to compete with himself. He was always trying to top personal records and not those of others. He filled his photo gallery with new memories and adventures, and he can't wait to see what new experiences await him in the Upper School.

Ryder Iatan

Ryder has had four incredible years at SAC. He was part of many sports teams along the way and especially enjoyed Leadership in Training. Ryder will never forget his trip to Montreal with the hockey team and the trip to Kelowna with the robotics team. A highlight this year was playing hockey on the Quad with friends at lunch. Ryder would like to thank his mom and dad for the opportunity of a lifetime. "The future belongs to those who prepare for it today." - Malcolm X

Kevin Jin

Kevin enjoyed every second of his second year at SAC. He loved taking part in the Cross-Country Run; it was awesome! Although SAC has been shut down multiple times, making the students do online school, it's still a lot of fun. Kevin wants to thank his classmates because they brought him joy. He also wants to thank Mr. Kyle and Ms Ledgerwood, the two best advisors he has ever met. The class is always full of fun because they are both humorous and kind all the time. He really appreciates the chance of being a part of SAC.

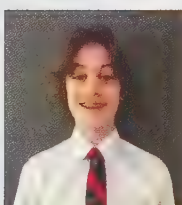

Tommy Kalogiannis

Tommy's Middle School journey started in Grade 6, and it has been quite the journey since then. Some of his highlights include a 28-0-0 season with the U12 Hockey team and winning the championship. It was also memorable winning the Grade 6 paper airplane competition. He would like to thank his advisors from over the years, Ms Elliott, Mrs. Berman, and Mr. Holmes.

Lexi Kert

Lexi's time at SAC was rewarding and something he will never forget. Thank you to all of his classmates, teachers, and faculty for helping him along the way. One of his proudest awards is the Head of School's Honour Roll tie. His favourite moments are winning the Selwyn Trophy in Grade 6, performing with the band at Roy Thomson Hall, and travelling to Camp Winnebago, where he jumped off the platform with Chris into the water. He is excited to start the next chapter of his education!

Jacob Kirchmair

This is Jacob's second and final year in Middle School at St. Andrew's College. He had fun being part of the Middle School Council and planning activities for his fellow students. He thanks all of his teachers, staff, and classmates for all of the support they have given him during Middle School and especially, he wants to thank his parents for giving him the opportunity to go to SAC. He's really looking forward to Upper School and the opportunities it represents.

Marcus Knoop

Marcus loved his four years at St. Andrew's. He would really like to thank his parents for taking a chance on him and sending him to an amazing school. Marcus would really like to thank his advisors and friends who helped him get through Middle School. Marcus had a great time being on the Middle School Council and loved the opportunity to be in the LIT program this year. Marcus also really loved playing U12 Hockey in Grade 6.

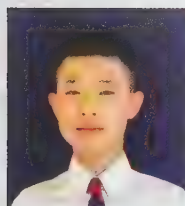

Will Kollis

Looking back at Will's first year at SAC, he experienced so much more than he could have imagined. While it was challenging at times, his teachers were supportive and helped him make improvements academically. Furthermore, he was able to make some great friends from the very first day, which helped make the year even more fun. Overall, it was a great year, and he is excited to begin his Upper School journey.

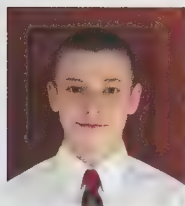

Ethan Lam

This is Ethan's fourth year at SAC. He has been at SAC since Grade 5 and cherished every single moment. He is truly grateful to all the teachers who have helped him along his journey growing up and moving on to Upper School next year. He would like to thank Mr. Kyle. He is a wonderful teacher in class and a great advisor to Ethan, helping him through many challenges and learning opportunities. He will miss him. He would also like to thank Ms Ledgerwood, who has been a wonderful advisor to him.

David Li

David has had the time of his life here at SAC. Some of his best memories were making a golf course in Grade 6 and the community service work. He could have never imagined the amazing opportunities he has experienced here, and he thanks his parents for sending him to such a great school. He would like to thank Ms Elliott, Mrs. D'Angelo, and Mr. Cahill for making him feel at home while at SAC.

Edan Macpherson

Edan enjoyed being on the Middle School basketball and cross-country running teams. His favourite experience at SAC was going to Montreal for the CISAA U13 Basketball tournament with all his teammates and his coach. Edan would like to thank his teachers and friends for all the unforgettable memories, as well as his parents for giving him the opportunity to attend such an extraordinary school like SAC.

Matteo Martelli

Matteo's couple of years at St. Andrew's College have been a blast. He was so excited to be going to this amazing school. Matteo played on the U13 Soccer team and had the best experience. He really enjoyed the bus rides and talking to new people. Although his year was cut short, it didn't stop him from having fun online with his friends and teachers. Matteo is going to Upper School but won't forget all the memories he has with the Middle School and is really looking forward to his future.

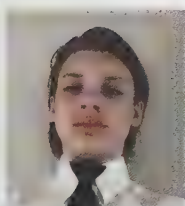

Cole Martins

Cole's Middle School experience at St. Andrew's College was, in his perspective, cut short but very enjoyable. He only spent two out of six terms at the School, but in his two terms in boarding, he was able to make many good friends and really enjoy his time in Canada. With weekend activities and trips, there was always something fun to take part in. Overall, he has come to greatly miss it during these past few months not being there.

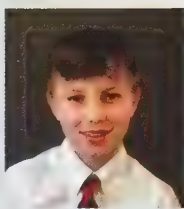

Duncan McDonell

On Duncan's first day of Grade 6 at St. Andrew's College, he was seemingly unnoticeable. Luckily, St. Andrew's is very welcoming, and within a few short days, he was able to build quality friendships. He is lucky that St. Andrew's is a very diverse place where you can find whatever you want if you just look hard enough. He has always believed that no matter what happens, there will be a place for him at St. Andrew's. Who would have guessed that one letter of acceptance would change his life so spectacularly?

Will Muszynski

Will's two years spent in the Middle School were such a great experience. He would like to thank all his teachers and peers for an awesome year. He would also like to thank his two great advisors, Mr. Toter and Mr. Holmes, as well as Mr. Keyes for being a mentor. Some of his favourite moments included playing on the hockey and soccer teams as well as the Beyond the Gates trip in Grade 7. Hopefully, his high school years bring him as much joy as his years in the Middle School.

Logan Noccey

Logan will remember his great years in Middle School. Logan has been at SAC since Grade 5 and has had awesome times since then. He enjoyed winning the U12 Hockey championships in Montreal in back-to-back years. He also really enjoyed the Beyond the Gates trip at the start of every year. In Grade 8, Logan's favourite subject was gym. He enjoys going to school to see his friends every day. He would like to thank his amazing parents for giving him the opportunity to go to this awesome school.

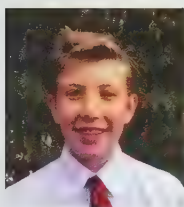

Hugh Ping

Hugh had many good memories this year. He played a variety of sports like volleyball and was exposed to numerous themes of arts like drawing and painting. Some memories he cherished were going to Beyond the Gates in Grades 6 and 7 and performing in An Andrean Christmas. Hugh joined LIT to enhance his leadership positions and knowledge. He hopes his legacy will last forever. Hugh is looking forward to the next step of life, high school!

William Plaxton

William had an amazing and challenging two years at SAC. He learned a lot of skills and made many fun memories that he will be sure to bring into the Upper School. In his two years at SAC, he had to learn to adapt to new rules and face tasks head-on, which will come in handy in his following years at SAC. He really enjoyed art class and loved doing group activities with his class, especially on the basketball court. Even though it has been a difficult year, he looks forward to the future with a smile on his face.

Clarke Preston

Clarke had a remarkable time in his two years in the Middle School. Playing sports was an unforgettable experience, especially competing on the U14 Squash and cross-country teams. Tuesday Arts was so much fun, and he loved trying new things this year. Clarke had great advisors in both years, and his teachers always had his back in the toughest of times. Thank you to all of the teachers. After a wonderful time in the Middle School, Clarke can't wait for what is ahead.

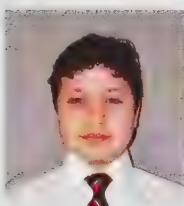

John Qing

Well, John's time in the Middle School is up, and he would like to thank everyone who has made the journey so fun, whether it be his teachers, friends, or classmates. He must give special thanks to his advisors, Mr. Holmes and Mrs. Berman, for supporting him along the way. Although the students were restricted through online classes, he is thankful to have experienced the Engineering Design Challenge, which was his favourite part of the year.

Akhilesh Ragavan

These past years at SAC have been the most memorable and important years in Aki's life. He has had many ups and downs, and SAC has taught him a lot. Aki's Grade 5 year was the best year because he was looking forward to it so much. Grade 6 was also one of the best years because he played plenty of soccer and got an MIP for swimming. One of Aki's favourite memories was Beyond the Gates. It's one of his first moments at this school, and little did he know back then it would be one of his favourites.

Nathan Rahl

Being Nathan's first year at SAC, he could not be more pleased with the new friendships he has made and the knowledge he has acquired. Over the year, he was able to try new things and have memories that will last a lifetime. He is grateful for all the academic support he received from teachers and is excited to see his growth in the upcoming years. Although we faced challenges, he could not be prouder of the positivity from his friends, family, and himself. He is looking forward to Upper School!

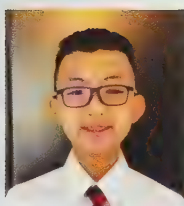

Ibrahim Rahman

Ibrahim came to SAC in Grade 7. His time in the Middle School has been very memorable. He has learned so many new things and received so many new opportunities. Learning how to play squash or joining the Green Team, he got so much from the past two years. We all know that our lives changed last spring when the pandemic first hit, but he can't express how thankful he is to all of his teachers who worked extremely hard to keep us healthy and safe. He is immensely grateful to his parents for sending him to SAC.

Pranay Ranjan

Pranay had an unforgettable time in Middle School. He would like to thank all of his teachers and friends for a very fun and interesting couple of years. His most memorable achievement in sports was winning MIP in U12 Basketball in Grade 6. Some very memorable moments were talking on Zoom after almost every Zoom class with his friends, John and Clarke. He is looking forward to his Upper School career, and he wishes everyone as memorable a career.

Jonathan Rim

What an amazing year it has been for Jonathan. Although he only got to enjoy the Middle School experience for one year, he believes he has been able to try many new things esoteric to SAC. During his Grade 8 year, Jonathan was able to join the Guyship Committee as well as LIT, and he also achieved the Head of School's Honour Roll. Jonathan would love to thank his advisor, Mrs. Ramon, as well as all of the other teachers he has had for being so kind and making his experience at SAC so exceptional.

Logan Rubino

This year at SAC was a crazy one with COVID-19, and moving from Grade 7 to Grade 8 was huge. Even though this year has been a stressful one with lots of tests and other stuff, Logan really enjoyed making friends with a lot of his classmates, and he will never forget how kind and helpful they all have been. He would like to thank all his teachers, classmates, and his advisor, Ms O'Hare, for making his last year at SAC awesome and making this an unforgettable experience.

Ibrahim Saleem-Ahmad

This was Ibrahim's first year at SAC, and so far, it has been a great experience throughout the whole year. He is very happy that SAC has done its best to allow us to do certain activities that didn't seem possible. His teachers have helped him so much throughout the year, and without them, he would not be the person he is today. He is also very happy that SAC has provided him with lifelong friends. He is a bit sad that he will be leaving the Middle School for good, but he is very excited for what the future holds.

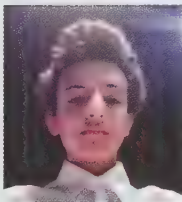

Usman Shakir

Usman has had a great three years in Middle School at SAC. Over these years, he has learned how to skate, and he has expanded his knowledge. His main highlights are making the soccer team, the softball team, and going to Camp Winnebago. He has also made many great friends. Overall, Usman has had the time of his life in Middle School at SAC.

Miraj Siddiqui

Miraj has been very happy with his time in the Middle School at SAC and is eager to join the Upper School. He is grateful to all of the teachers and staff that have made his experience so much better. Miraj would especially like to thank his advisors throughout the Middle School, Mr. Dockerty, Mrs. Berman, and Mr. Kowaltschuk.

Max Singer

Max had an awesome time in the Middle School, and he would like to thank his teachers and friends for supporting him and making it so memorable. In his Grade 8 year, he really enjoyed the writing activities in Language Arts, and staying active through physical education. When he thinks back on his time in the Middle School, there are so many memories and he truly wants to thank everyone for especially making the Grade 8 year such a highlight.

Chris Stewart

It has been an amazing four years for Chris, earning an Academic Merit tie, pin, and medals in all grades. "Stewie" has enjoyed SAC arts like the Focus Festival and music, and sports like hockey, soccer, and lacrosse. Chris is most proud of his contribution to the U12 Hockey team's undefeated CISAA championship year. Chris thanks his teachers, parents, and friends. "If you can't fly, then run. If you can't run, then walk. If you can't walk, then crawl, but whatever you do, you have to keep moving forward." - MLK Jr.

Rocky Tavernese

Rocky will remember every part of his experience in Middle School. Highlights were the Grade 7 basketball tournament in Montreal, all the other sports he got to play, and all the Beyond the Gates trips. He would like to thank each of his teachers for helping him along the way, his friends, and most of all, his family for giving him this opportunity. "The greatest glory in living lies not in never falling, but in rising every time we fall." - Nelson Mandela

Caden Taylor

Caden will never forget his Middle School days at SAC. Some great memories are Beyond the Gates, An Andrean Christmas, the trips to Montreal, his PA announcer days with awesome jokes, and the U12 Soccer championship. His favourite memory is the undefeated season and ultimate championship in U12 Hockey with Mr. B. Thanks to all the great teachers he has had throughout the years and to the great friends he has made. Although he is sad to be leaving the Middle School, he is excited about the future.

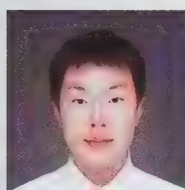

Alex Tsoi

Boarding at St. Andrew's College has been an unforgettable experience. Alex would like to thank his teachers and friends for supporting him and guiding him through the year. He loved the afterschool arts programs and the interesting lessons led by great teachers such as Mr. Kowaltschuk, Mrs. Ramon, and Mr. Kyle. He also enjoyed the Grade 8 leadership program, and he is looking forward to the vast leadership programs and opportunities that the Upper School has to offer.

Nathan Villamere

Although this is Nathan's first year at St. Andrew's College, he has enjoyed every second of it. Whether it was in class or online, he has learned more this year than he ever would have thought. He was very nervous coming to SAC, only knowing about five people in Grade 8. Little did he know, there was nothing to be nervous about, and he has had so many positive experiences here at SAC. In conclusion, he has really enjoyed this year, and he is looking forward to his Upper School experience.

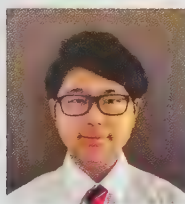

Andy Wang

Andy's first year at St. Andrew's was unforgettable for him, not only because he got accepted to the best boys' school in Canada, but because it was a real confidence booster. This was a special period of his life largely due to COVID-19, which granted him the privilege to become a remote learner on the other side of the Pacific Ocean. At first, online learning was lonely but thanks to his teachers and peers, he started feeling welcome and accepted into the St. Andrew's family. Most importantly, he would like to thank his parents for all their support this year.

Simon Wang

Simon's first year at St. Andrew's was amazing but challenging due to being a remote learner. He would like to thank all of his teachers and his advisor, Mr. Lewis, for supporting him throughout the year. He is really looking forward to being on campus for Upper School and experiencing everything St. Andrew's has to offer. Most importantly, he would like to thank his parents for giving him the opportunity to attend SAC.

Josh Wang

Josh's four years of SAC so far have been great. He loved taking part in extracurriculars such as badminton and soccer. His favourite memory in these past years was Beyond the Gates in Grade 5. It was fun to meet new students, and he found it easy to make friends with his classmates since they were also new. He also loved An Andrean Christmas in Grade 5 as it was fun performing as the nutcrackers. Finally, he would like to thank his parents for giving him the opportunity of attending this school.

Nelson Yang

This was Nelson's first year at St. Andrew's, and he looks forward to the years to come. As a new boy, he was unaware of what life would be like at SAC, and after a full year he could not be happier. That is why he has enjoyed learning about everything and everyone. He has managed to make great friends who have taught him so much and have helped him when he needed them. This is truly an amazing place and he cannot wait to continue his journey in the years to come.

Andy Yang

This is Andy's fourth and last year in the Middle School, a journey that helped define who he is now. He will continue trying his hardest in the following years in Upper School. He enjoyed the time he spent this year with Mr. Toter and Mr. Kowaltschuk in the LIT program and the practice sessions with the marksmanship team. He wishes to thank all of his teachers; he will miss their unique teaching styles. He also wishes to thank his parents for giving him this amazing opportunity that allowed him to refine his character.

Zimo Yang

Zimo found his first year at SAC challenging. With COVID-19, he was both interested and inspired by how he and others collaborated and adapted to the pandemic. He enjoyed playing soccer and table tennis, sculpting, and learning French. He is thankful to his parents for providing him with the opportunity to attend SAC, and to his friends, roommates, teachers, and others at SAC who have made this year one to remember. He is looking forward to the end of this pandemic and better days ahead.

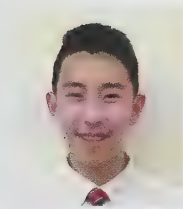

Brandon Yi

The last three years were the best years of Brandon's life. He recalls Middle School full of fun, memorable, and important moments. He has learned so many life lessons from his teachers. Brandon enjoyed playing for the hockey, basketball, and track & field teams. He has picked up new skills each term and would like to thank his coaches, Mr. Biasi and Mr. Holmes. Brandon also thanks his advisors, Mrs. Elliott, Ms Derwin, and Mr. MacPherson, for three years of valuable mentorship.

Leon Yuan

Leon has enjoyed being at SAC since Grade 7. He had a very awesome time in Middle School and wants to thank his friends for supporting him and making the years so memorable. He enjoyed trying out and participating in all the sports teams such as volleyball and basketball. One of his favourite moments during his time in Middle School is Beyond the Gates in 2019, before the pandemic started.

Kevin Zhang

This first year at SAC was unforgettable as Kevin got to experience boarding in Macdonald House and take part in many interesting activities. Some of his favourite moments include archery with Mr. Ramon or rock climbing with Mr. Murray. He also enjoyed learning to cook grilled cheese during Tuesday Arts. He is looking forward to all the Upper School opportunities next year.

Richard Zhao

This was Richard's second year at St. Andrew's College, and he had a really fantastic and unforgettable year in the Middle School. He learned a lot of new things during these two years, such as French, squash, and leadership skills. He not only learned a lot in his courses but also made many friends, such as Lexi, Kevin, Pranay, and Alex. He would really like to thank his advisors, Ms Still, Mrs. Berman, Mr. Holmes, and Ms O'Hare for their help. He is really looking forward to Upper School life!

Shuiyi Zhao

Shuiyi has had a great time while attending SAC this year as a boarding student. He has learned to become a more responsible, organized, and self-regulated person during the school year. It has also been very fun as a boarding student for the first time in his life. He is very thankful and glad about all the experiences and opportunities that the School has created. His teachers have also been very patient and kind to him. Overall, he thinks SAC is a wonderful school.

Tristan Zhou

This year has been quite the rollercoaster ride, and like a rollercoaster, it feels like little time has passed since September. The ukulele thing seemed weird at first, but after playing for a bit and adding some of his own parts, it was better than he thought. However, he heard something about playing piano, but that didn't happen. Also, he really enjoyed Avant-Garde Wednesday with Outdoor Education and the news activity. Welp, cheers to a new year, whether it's your first or last of many years at SAC!

Jason Zhou

Jason has really enjoyed the three years of being a Middle School student, and he has really loved the School's culture. Jason will never forget all the fun classes he had, for instance, Mr. Holmes's math class and Mr. Biasi's history lessons. Jason also enjoyed the Tuesday Arts program and the sports teams. He played on the U12 and U13 Hockey teams, and also tried lots of different art programs such as robotics and visual arts. Jason would really like to thank his mom for letting him come to SAC and for always supporting him.

AWESOME STUDENT ART FOR ART'S SAKE

Creativity

is celebrated in the English classroom at St. Andrew's. Students write short stories, experiment with poetry, or try their hand at scriptwriting. They are encouraged to share their work with the extended SAC community by publishing their work on the arts and literary magazine website, The Thistle.

BEHIND THIS YEAR'S DRESS CODE

By Eddie Jia '21

Since the start of the school year, the most notable change in the community of SAC since the pandemic has probably been the decline of dark blue colours and the thriving of white and red. The reduced requirement of dressing provided the SAC students with an unprecedented level of freedom that every piece of clothing that has a SAC logo or writings can be worn at school at any time. Mr. Inglis, the Coordinator of Student Life, has stated that the purpose of the new dress code is for social distancing. Since lockers are unavailable for day boys, changing before sports is a concern as First Dress is troublesome to be carried around. In comparison, pants or shorts, hoodies, and sports shoes prepare students for their day.

However, some students still chose to wear First Dress or summer dress in September. Many wore the First Dress for some events, including the Thanksgiving Prayer Circle. Some of them, however, miss wearing First Dress: "The 'casual dress' now, I mean the spirit dress, is lacking a sense of formality," noted a graduating student, "even though First Dress is tight and inconvenient for sports, it also restrains the tendency to be lazy and idle." This viewpoint has been agreed on by most of the interviewees. Not only does dressing up urge students to focus and pay attention, a classroom full of students in neat and tidy dress also forms an academic atmosphere that facilitates the efficiency of learning.

So why do you choose not to wear it? The most common answer to this is simply habit. As students get used to hoodies and slides, comfort and convenience outweigh the formality of the First Dress. In fact, the sign-up rate and participation in fall term sports this year were higher than in any recent years. Besides being cooped up for six months [due to pandemic lockdowns], the easy access to the sports provided by the spirit dress could be a source of motivation. In addition, some students suggested it could actually be a better policy to require First Dress only for events while leaving the spirit dress as an everyday option, even after the pandemic. "They are still school uniform," a Grade 10 student suggested. "That's why it is called 'spirit.'" However, as most faculty members and students suggested, the "spirit" might be more about sports and activities and less about academics.

Most SAC students don't realize that, in fact, for boarders who get their room to change and those who don't have to change because they didn't sign up for sports, maintaining the First Dress code is inarguable. Also, if sports are cancelled due to the exacerbations of COVID-19 cases, we may see the return of mandatory First Dress. However, if the pandemic lasts for years and lockers will be no longer accessible, the spirit dress we are wearing right now could be a new page on the history of SAC. We have to be prepared for both. While we are still in spirit dress, we should be more disciplined and choose our clothing wisely: staying away from the notion of "loose," "lazy," and "ready to go home" but embracing positive elements like "motivation," "vitality," and "health."

Disregarding the uncertainties in the situation, the only thing we can make sure of is to keep ourselves active and hopeful. What we wear on the outside might be less important as a factor. As Head of School Mr. McHenry commented, the more positive we stay, the less we will suffer. Putting on the spirit dress is the best response a SAC student can do to stick with that positivity. ✖

MIDDLE SCHOOL ATHLETICS BEFORE AND AFTER THE CORONAVIRUS

In his article posted on The Thistle on Oct. 24, 2020, Karrar Jaber '23 contrasts how the Middle School played sports before the pandemic to athletics this year.

By Karrar Jaber '23

The coronavirus pandemic has immensely influenced and impacted the lives of all people around the world, including the SAC population, especially in terms of sports.

At the launch of the 2019-2020 school year, the physical education and sports program was highly anticipated, especially by the energetic Middle School boys as they selected their sports for the term. Physical education is a course where students can demonstrate their athletic capabilities; playing sports can aid in the development of communication, teamwork, and sportsmanship skills.

At the end of the school days, students were eager to get changed in the changerooms of Yuill Gym. Group by group, the boys would head out to participate and contribute to their chosen sport. The boys' laughter could be heard from all over the SAC campus, which created a resemblance of a muffled human voice.

In the first term, the boys would develop their skills and improve their athletic capabilities. As sports continued, the weather began to change as the bright green leaves transformed gradually into crispy, pastel-coloured leaves. The days were getting breezy and short as the daylight disappeared and the green grass became topped with frigid, lustrous white snow.

As winter began, the arena was tightly packed every day, with students watching the varsity team, hoping to predict the outcome of the MacPherson Cup. Hockey brings both Middle School and Upper School students together to construct a marvellous fan base that encourages and motivates the First Hockey team throughout the tournament.

Following the Christmas break, students were smiling as they played their racket sports unit in gym class. However, nearing March break, a virus known as COVID-19 emerged, silently infecting the population.

Slowly, coronavirus made a grand entrance infecting people all over the world. When the World Health Organization declared a pandemic, SAC had to shut down. Students transitioned to online classes. For the Middle School students' gym classes, the spark that was evident throughout the beginning of the year was eradicated from their eyes as they found less joy in playing/exercising through a video call.

Fast forward to September. The re-opening of school saw an opportunity where the boys could be enthusiastic again as they returned to sports and in-person school, this time, with a twist. Gym teachers at SAC, such as Ms Derwin, have noticed a significant difference.

When asked about what measures gym teachers would be taking to keep their Middle School students safe while still providing them with an excellent education, Ms Derwin replied, "So, this year looks very different. When you enter the Yuill Gym, you will always have a mask on, and it will stay on, and there are now red stickers that are socially distanced to provide a seat for students for attendance purposes. Also, the gym's entrance and exit are all one way; therefore, there will be no cross-contamination of paths. The students will use the hand sanitizer frequently, and each student will be given a piece of equipment, i.e. a frisbee with a number, so that there will once again be no cross-contamination. And at the end of class, the teachers such as myself will spray down the equipment with the provided flogger and let it rest for 15 minutes so that each piece of equipment is sanitized."

The Physical Education staff at SAC are taking action and implementing restrictions to help maintain the opening of the School. Among all these new limitations, the students are keeping an open mind as to how the Physical Education program will run. Regardless, the students are grateful for the in-school experience and are willing to adapt to the new norm.

This year, sports are typically played socially distanced, so masks do not always need to be worn. However, if one was playing a close encounter sport, the coaches follow the rule that masks must be worn to help prevent the spread of the coronavirus. All sports follow the same guidelines for sanitizing equipment to prevent the spread of coronavirus and keep students safe.

We must stand up to the challenges created by the coronavirus, and we must adapt just like the Middle School boys who have had the spark in their eyes re-lit. ✖

OUTLAWS TO THE END

By Alfred Kwan '21

Beaver Hollow was once a vibrant camp full of drinking, dancing, and celebration, but now was a shell of its former self, quiet and dull as an abandoned town. Arthur Morgan, while making his way to the camp, contemplated whether or not this was going to be his last time here with his old friend Dutch Van Der Linde. As he looked upon the camp of which he called home, he saw it was devoid of any movement and almost entirely dark, with the sole exceptions being the light coming from the dying flames of a campfire and the cave where Dutch resided. Sitting by the final fires of the blaze, Arthur sat in reflection of his relationship with Dutch, surrounded by a dense collection of tall spruce trees which shielded the camp from any distraction, and while looking around the worn-down tents, dirty working equipment, and ruined furniture, he remembered the times he had at this exact spot, like after the Blackwater Heist when he and the gang spent the night drinking away their stockpile of whiskey while singing to their favourite tunes.

In all of his years with Dutch, he could have never imagined that after all, they had done that it would turn out like this. In the past few months, somehow, somehow, the police always knew what they were up to, and because of it, many were lost while others left. Arthur was always under the presumption that they did what they had to do to survive and nothing else, but as times got more desperate, Arthur saw Dutch's true colours of indecency to those who did not deserve it, something that made his blood boil. With his morality crumbling around him, Arthur felt that the only world he knew was leaving him, and there was nothing he could do but walk away. Despite his desire to leave, a part of Arthur told him to stay loyal, unlike the dozens of others who had bailed on him, and that he had to help out the man that had helped him out so many years ago and raised him as a child.

Out of the cave emerged Dutch, with a resolute face, who walked towards Arthur without hesitation and with clear intent. The two had seen each other many times before, but this time, Arthur could sense there was something different;

Dutch wasn't there for him, he was there for what he offered. Dutch put his arm around Arthur and began to describe a world beyond any sense of conceivable reality, an elaborate scheme based in a flurry of hypotheticals and speculation that would somehow result in a happy ever after. "Arthur, I have a plan. One more big score is all we need, you gotta keep faith! We are so close to Tahiti!" In response, the only thing Arthur could do was laugh at the whole ridiculousness of it all.

As Dutch stormed off, Arthur sat there for a few more minutes, but it was as if he was frozen in time, with no decision he could make seeming like the right one. This was something that Arthur should have decided on a long time ago, but he didn't have the heart to do it, just like many of us. He couldn't walk away from this life, the only life he had, but at the same time, it was clear that if he stayed and continued his time with Dutch, there was no seeing the light at the end of the tunnel.

After some time, Arthur stood up and decided to get into his bed, to get away from all of this. He imagined a world where he and Dutch could just magically get on a boat to Tahiti and forgot about all their problems, but he knew that could never happen. But as he opened the curtains into his tent, he saw not his pillow and sheets, but a deep void in which he fell into where there was nothing but black, and as he was falling at unimaginable speeds, all Arthur could do was embrace it and close his eyes, knowing that there was absolutely nothing he could do about it.

When Arthur woke up from his coma-like state, he was lying in an empty field, surrounded by farmers who were as puzzled as he was. He was brought to the local village, where he was given a bed, a bathroom, and a little room all to himself. In a language he couldn't quite decipher, he was told that this was his new home. He was free from Dutch, free from the police, and free from the burdens of his old world. He no longer had to worry about the sorrows of his past life, nor the decisions he made in it. He finally had the life he wanted. ✕

HEREAFTER

By Marshall Ma '21

In truth, nobody knew what awaited on the other side of the portal; but when a loved one is in peril across the threshold, there is no toll too high or road too treacherous to deliver them from danger.

First lieutenant Blake Bellerose had expected at least a clichéd flash of white light but besides a sudden change in temperature, passing through the portal was fantastically mundane. The hallway that she found herself in was hot, humid, and ominously silent besides the constant dripping from the pipes that ran along the ceiling.

She had lost track of how much time had passed or how far she had explored when the screams began ringing through the corridors. Her father's voice, several rooms away, reinvigorating her like a shot of adrenaline and leading her into a dead end with a set of doors. Wasting no time, she threw herself at the rusted sheet metal, sending it flying off its hinges with a loud crunch. Relief rushed over her like a mild breeze as she saw her father sitting in the center of the room on a wooden stool. Yet, when she approached him, someone— no, something suddenly came into her view.

The shadow caressing Dr. Bellerose's cheek mechanically turned its featureless face and glared into Blake's soul with its empty eye sockets. Instinctively, her hand went to her sidearm but the creature was too quick; before she could fully free it from the holster, it ran her to the floor and she felt a warm, wet sensation across her waist. With her weapon now on the opposite side of the room, she reached for the second pistol in her back holster. This time, her draw was faster, tearing chunks out of the silhouette with each trigger-pull. Soon, all that was left was thin strands of black dust in the air.

Blake rushed to her father's side, quickly realizing something was wrong; despite what just happened, he had remained motionless. She reached out to him, and her brief triumph quickly transformed into horror when upon contact, his body crumbled into an ethereal mist of resplendent dust.

She stumbled back and fell to her knees. When the shadow's cold arm wrapped around her neck, whether it was out of shock or a subconscious volition, she did not fight back. This was it, she thought. She was no stranger to death, but to finally experience it was a nightmare of an incomparable magnitude. As her lungs ignited, what courage she had left was annihilated by a primal terror — the terror of never being able to say goodbye. She wanted to scream, hoping that someone, somewhere would hear, but with the creature crushing her throat, all she managed was a whimper.

Just before the world faded to black around her, Blake's vision was suddenly lit up by a streak of light from the doorway, whizzing past her head and striking the shadow square in the face, stunning it long enough for her to break free from its grasp. She collapsed to the ground, and the gunfire continued for several more seconds until the room fell silent once more; a silence that was only broken by the voice of platoon sergeant Sanford Chase shouting her name.

In a time of uncertainty, to have a companion at your back is a boon that many could only dream of possessing. Blake did not understand how or why Sanford came to her rescue; she had just breached at least a dozen protocols to reach the portal, but there he was anyway.

She told him everything: how her father went missing, how it had been redacted from official files, and how he was the only family she had left. After which, she began to weep. In all his three years under her command, Sanford had never seen the steadfast lieutenant in such distress. He tried his best to comfort her, telling her that her men would never serve another officer and, after gulping down the lump in his throat, admitted that his life would not be the same without her.

"Thank you, San. Do— do you really mean it?"

He nodded silently.

"I— I never knew." She said with a grimace, "If we don't make it back, I want you to know that—"

"Not a word more of that. Let me take a look at that wound."

He sat her up against a wall as he patched her up while she rested her head against his shoulder. For a few brief moments, they did nothing more.

"Lieutenant?"

"...yes?"

"Tell you what. Next time we get some time for R&R, let's go somewhere nice, hmm? That'll do you some good. How's Honolulu sound?"

"Honolulu sounds great."

When they returned to the threshold at the stairwell of the basement, they exchanged one last tender look. In truth, nobody knew what awaited on the other side of the portal; but no matter what it was, hell or high waters, they knew that they would face it with the solace of each other. ✕

TRIED AND TRUE RECIPES TESTED IN THE SAC ACPLUS KITCHENS

Chicken Noodle Soup

INGREDIENTS

- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1/2 cup diced carrot
- 1/2 cup diced onion
- 1/2 cup diced celery
- 1 pinch salt
- 1/2 teaspoon poultry seasoning
- 1 tablespoon melted olive oil
- 1 tablespoon melted butter
- 2 quarts chicken broth (made with bouillon)
- 4 ounces uncooked wide egg noodles (more if you prefer it extra hearty)
- One whole cooked chicken deboned and cubed
- Salt and ground black pepper to taste

DIRECTIONS

1/ Melt butter and olive oil in a large soup pot over medium heat. Stir in chopped carrot, onion, celery, salt, and poultry seasoning. Cook and stir until the onions turn soft and translucent, 5 to 6 minutes.

2/ Stir in chicken broth and bring to a boil.

3/ Season to taste with salt, if necessary; stir in egg noodles and cook until tender, about 5 minutes.

4/ Stir in cooked chicken and simmer until heated through, about 5 minutes.

5/ Season with salt and black pepper to taste.

Build Your Own Grilled Cheese Sandwich

INGREDIENTS

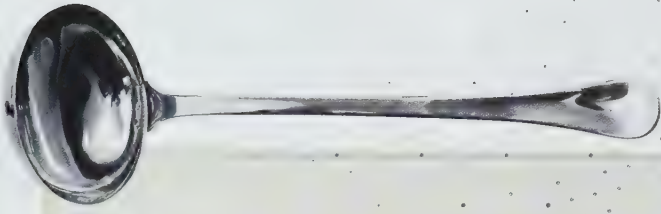

- Olive oil
- Butter
- Bread
- Cheese (cheddar, havarti, and brie)
- Mayonnaise and mustard
- Other options: tomato, onion, ham, pepperoni, cheeses such as smoked gouda and blue

DIRECTIONS

1/ Spread butter on 2 slices of bread. On the other slice of bread, place your choice of fillings. Assemble sandwich.

2/ Put 2 tablespoons of olive oil in a hot skillet. Place buttered side of sandwich in the skillet, making sure not to burn. Leave for approximately 3 minutes. Flip the sandwich to cook the opposite the opposite side

3/ When cooked, place on a cutting board and divide the sandwich. Serve with your choice of ketchup, mustard, pickles, and salsa.

Skillet Tacos

INGREDIENTS

- 1 tablespoon vegetable oil
- 1 red bell pepper, chopped
- 1/2 diced onion
- 1/4 cup sliced green onions, plus more for garnish
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 1 tablespoon chili powder
- 1 tablespoon ground cumin
- Salt
- 1 pound ground beef
- 1 15-ounce can diced tomatoes
- 1 cup black beans
- 1 tablespoon hot sauce
- 1 cup shredded Monterey Jack cheese
- 1 cup shredded cheddar cheese

DIRECTIONS

1/ In a large skillet over medium-high heat, heat oil. Add bell pepper, onions, and half the green onions and cook until tender, 5 minutes. Add garlic and cook until fragrant, 1 minute. Add chili powder and cumin and stir until combined, then season with salt.

2/ Add ground beef and cook until it is no longer pink, about 5 minutes.

3/ Add diced tomatoes and black beans and stir until combined. Stir in hot sauce, Monterey Jack, and cheddar. Cover with a lid and let melt, 2 minutes, then garnish with green onions and serve. This dish can be served on its own or with taco shells, soft tacos, or corn chips.

Chicken Quesadillas

INGREDIENTS

- 1 pound skinless, boneless chicken breast, diced
- 1 (1.27 ounce) packet fajita seasoning
- 1 tablespoon vegetable oil
- 2 green bell peppers, chopped
- 2 red bell peppers, chopped
- 1 onion, chopped
- 10 (10-inch) flour tortillas
- 1 (8-ounce) package shredded Cheddar cheese
- 1 tablespoon bacon bits (optional)
- 1 (8-ounce) package shredded Monterey Jack cheese
- Salsa and sour cream

DIRECTIONS

1/ Grease and preheat the grill.

2/ Heat the oil on the grill over medium heat. Toss the chicken with the fajita seasoning on the grill. Cook chicken until it is no longer pink, about 5 minutes.

3/ Stir in the green bell peppers, red bell peppers, and onion with the chicken. Cook and stir until the vegetables have softened, about 10 minutes.

4/ Layer half of each tortilla with the chicken and vegetable mixture, and then sprinkle with cheddar cheese, bacon bits, and Monterey Jack. Fold the tortillas in half and place them on the grill.

5/ Cook each quesadilla until the cheeses have melted.

6/ Serve with salsa and sour cream.

PANDEMIC REFLECTIONS

No doubt, the 2020-2021 school year will go down in the books as the year COVID-19 dominated all of our lives.

Take a few minutes and jot down some memories, positive or negative, while they are fresh in your mind, so your 50-year-old self can open this Review and remember what you were thinking during this global event.

Need some prompts? Consider the following touch points:

- what were classes on Zoom like?
- how did your friendships change or adapt through the pandemic?
- what did you learn about yourself through the rollercoaster ride of lockdowns?
- what did you miss most about everyday life at St. Andrew's?
- what do you have a renewed appreciation for that you previously took for granted?

NEVER AGAIN!

Stuff I never want to do once the pandemic is kicked to the curb...

EDDIE JIA

The Colonel Tilston Award

To honour the students who, in the opinion of the faculty, have set the best example in their class for effort, persistence, and tenacity in their studies and all other school activities in the face of adversity. Colonel Frederick A. Tilston merited The Victoria Cross, the highest military honour of the British Commonwealth, for his courage under fire on March 1, 1945. Tilston's own words: "To honour the boys in each form who, in the opinion of the masters, have set the best example for effort, persistency, tenacity in their studies and all other activities." To which the faculty have added the interpretation of "adversity" or "in the line of fire." Academic strength is not an issue; it is the effort that is the determining factor.
